Dr. Rutherford Tenders His Resignation.

The deepest regret and profoundest sorrow was expressed upon every hand yesterday morning when it became known that continued ill health had forced Rev. Dr. E. H. Rutherford to ask the session of the Second Presbyterian church after the Sunday morning service, to join him in asking the Presbytery to dissolve his pastorate of the church.

The session of the church will hold a meeting tomorrow to take the matter up, and it is probably no further action will be taken until at the meeting of the Presbytery, which is in about sixty days.

Rev. Dr. E. H. Rutherford for near twenty-seven years has been pastor of this flock, and only ill health could have caused him to take the step he has taken. In speaking of Dr. Rutherford one can truly call him this Godly man, and we can also say without fear of contradiction, that no pastor has ever lived in Paris that is more loved, honored and cherished, not only by his own congregation but by every denomination, for his lovely Christian character, than is Dr. Rutherford.

For these many years he has ministered to the people in this city and county in both happiness and sorrow, and the sorrow is universal that his health has failed and he is compelled to give up the work which was so near his heart.

Many prayers will ascend to the Heavenly Father that this good man may regain his health and remain in this community until he is called above to receive the welcome plaudit, "Well done thou good and faithful servant, enter thou in."

H. O. James Announces.

Mr. H. O. James announces in this issue of the News his candidacy for the office of Jailer of Bourbon county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

Mr. James is what can be called without fear of contradiction a true-blue, dyed-in-the-wool Democrat. He possesses all of the qualifications for the office he seeks, and if a working Democrat is entitled to recognition from his party, Mr. James is surely that man.

He has probably done more effective work for his party in regular elections than any other Democrat in the county, and this is the first time he has ever asked for office. He will be a hard man to beat.

New Cavalry Troops.

E. W. McLeod, Dr. J. W. Foley and Dr. W. N. Offutt, of Lexington are organizing a cavalry troop to become part of the State militia.

Negro Prisoner Escapes.

Dave Kemper, the negro who is charged with attempting to poison the family of Sam Harding about a year ago, escaped from the county workhouse Friday morning and has not yet been captured. He was serving a term for carrying concealed weapons. He disappeared in some high weeds near the works as suddenly as if the earth had opened and swallowed him. He is a desperate character and it is hoped he will be captured.

Candidate For Assessor.

Mr. W. G. McClintock, of Millersburg, announces in this issue his candidacy for Assessor of Bourbon county. If elected he will appoint Mr. Lyttleton Purnell, of Paris, his deputy. Mr. McClintock is one of Bourbon County's staunchest young Democrats and can on all occasions be found at the polls in the thickest of the fight for the Democratic nominees. He has filled the office of Assessor to the entire satisfaction of all, being fully equipped for every duty of the office. His deputy, Mr. Purnell, has been acting as one of the deputy assessors for a number of years, is one of our most popular young Democrats and has a large following that will hustle for the election of this unusual strong combination.

Paris Commercial Club Outing.

The Paris Commercial Club has invited all Commercial Clubs of surrounding cities to attend its first annual outing, and everyone of them have accepted the invitation and expect to come in force. The State Development Association will also be represented, and this outing will no doubt develop into good for all Central Kentucky. There is talk now of a federation of Commercial Clubs of the Blue Grass region. The matter will be taken up on July 23rd at the outing to be given by our local club. This is going to be one of the biggest days ever seen in these parts.

Lexington Redistricted.

Under the new redistricting of the city of Lexington and Fayette county, announced Saturday by Judge Bullock, there are 24 voting precincts in the city and 15 in the county, an increase of one each.

Dr. Henry's Sale at Danville.

Dr. D. S. Henry, who has opened up three of the most beautiful residence additions in our city, now has a big sale on at Danville, Ky., for July 28th. He has bought a number of acres of the most beautiful residence sites in Danville, has put down concrete walk, graded streets, etc., as he did here and will dispose of them on the above date. We can recommend Dr. Henry to the Danville people as one of the most enterprising men that probably ever visited their city. He is a gentleman of the highest business integrity and you can depend on what he tells you. There will probably be a number of Paris capitalists attend his Danville sale and invest in several of his lots.

House Guttered by Fire.

The one-story brick residence on Sycamore street, owned by Sarah Lloyd, was guttered by fire Saturday evening about 6 o'clock. The fire was under full headway when the fire department arrived. The department made a quick run, but as there was no one at home the fire was allowed to get almost beyond control before it was discovered or there was an alarm turned in.

Narrow Escape From Death.

On Sunday evening about 8 o'clock, an interurban car struck the buggy of Mr. J. Evans Mason, of North Middletown, at stop No. 55, on South Main Street, and it was a miracle almost that the young man and his companion, Miss Josie Stewart, were not instantly killed.

Mr. Mason was taking Miss Stewart to her home, which is on the Hume and Bedford pike, she being the daughter of Mr. Joe Stewart, when they saw a horse attached to a buggy become very much frightened at the approaching interurban car.

To get out of the way of the runaway horse, Mr. Mason pulled across the car track right in front of the car, which struck the buggy in the center of the bed, the horse having passed over the track.

The occupants were thrown quite a distance, Miss Stewart receiving severe bruises but was not seriously hurt, while Mr. Mason escaped without hardly a scratch, as did the horse. The buggy was smashed into kindling wood.

Nebraska Sage Nominated Amidst
Scenes of the Greatest Enthusiasm.
The Platform, Addresses of Temporary and Permanent Chairmen and Scenes and Incidents.

THE TICKET.

For President—
WILLIAM J. BRYAN of Nebraska.
For Vice President—
JOHN W. KERN of Indiana.

Denver, July 10.—William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska was nominated for the third time for the office of president of the United States by the Democratic national convention amid scenes of frenzied enthusiasm. The result came after an all-night session, which was kept in a constant state of turmoil up to the culminating moment when the Nebraska leader was proclaimed the choice of the convention as the Democratic standard bearer.

The nomination was made on the first and only ballot, the vote standing: William J. Bryan 892½, Governor John A. Johnson 46, Judge George Gray 59½.

The announcement of the vote was the signal for a wild demonstration, equalling in turbulence, if not in duration, the record-breaking display which on Wednesday afternoon greeted the first mention of Mr. Bryan's name in the convention.

The scene within the amphitheater at the moment the nomination was made was one of stirring animation. From pit to dome the vast building was packed with 10,000 people. It was a spectacle of grandiose proportions—tier on tier and gallery on gallery of agitated forms, the women in white, the delegates massed below, many of them coatless, a myriad of fans fluttering to combat the stifling heat and close atmosphere of this long pent-up exuberant multitude, ever ready to spring into feverish outbreaks of enthusiasm, and everywhere the blaze of flame, bunting and patriotic devices and the enveloping folds of Old Glory.

Twice before the throng had been moved into a mad ecstasy, first by the speech placing the name of Bryan in nomination, and again when that of Governor Johnson of Minnesota was proposed; but these manifestations paled before the culminating outburst of emotion. Before the Nebraska's actual nomination was made the whole assembly rose en masse, waving flags, handkerchiefs, newspapers, hats and coats, anything and everything which hands could lay upon to wave aloft or hurl into the air, while a bedlam of sound poured out from these 10,000 throats in exultant yells, cat-calls, Comanche war-whoops, with the added din of shrieking horns, the roar of megaphones, and the strains of the band playing an exultant anthem.

When for a moment order could be secured out of this tempestuous chaos or demonstration, state after state which had at first recorded its vote for Johnson or Gray fell into line with the overwhelming column, and the nomination was made unanimous and by acclamation.

The taking of the vote had been followed with breathless interest, as state after state swelled the Bryan strength. When New York was reached in the call of states the announcement of Chief Murphy "Seventy-eight votes for Bryan," brought out a wild outburst of enthusiastic approval which for a time compelled the suspension of the roll call. A further delay was caused by a demand for a poll of the New York delegation. On this poll many of the New York delegates, including Judge Alton B. Parker, the presidential nominee four years ago, remained silent, but the entire 78 votes of the delegation were cast for Bryan under the "unit rule." Pennsylvania was similarly called after sharp disagreement within the delegation, and the vote of Pennsylvania as finally cast was divided.

Prior to the culminating scene in the convention hall when the nomination of Bryan was made the assemblage had listened for hours to the oratory of nominating speakers, who moved them frequently to outburst of feverish excitement. It had been expected that the platform would be ready for adoption at 7 o'clock in the evening, when the night session began. But at that hour the committee on resolutions was still struggling with the planks relating to the currency, the tariff, the Mormon question and other important subjects. A committee appointed by the convention to learn how soon the platform would be ready reported that it would be midnight before the document was ready for the consideration of the convention. Thereupon, on motion of Congressman Ollie James of Kentucky, the regular order of procedure was suspended and the convention proceeded to call the roll of states for nominations for the presidency, with the understanding that the nominating and seconding speeches would be made without a final vote until the platform had been adopted.

At 9 o'clock the nominating speeches began and delegates and spectators were stirred with eager expectancy as the supreme and long deferred work of nominating the presidential candidate was begun.

Alabama, the first state on the roll call, yielded to Nebraska, the home state of Mr. Bryan, whose spokesman, the youthful orator, Ignatius J. Dunn of Omaha, advanced to the platform. He spoke in good voice, with great earnestness and to a sympathetic audience, which greeted each utterance of tribute to the Nebraska leader

BRYAN'S CAREER.

Born, Salem, Ill., March 19, 1856; graduated Illinois College, as valedictorian of his class, 1881; admitted to bar, July, 1884; married Mary Elizabeth Baird, Oct. 1, 1884; removed from Jacksonville, Ill., to Lincoln, Neb., 1887; elected to congress in 1890, serving from 1891 to 1895; Democratic nominee for United States senate, 1893; political editor Omaha World-Herald, 1894-5; Democratic nominee for the presidency of the United States in 1896 and 1900; organized regiment of volunteers for Spanish-American war and became colonel, 1898; established his weekly paper, the Commoner, 1901; rose from sick bed to speak at Democratic convention at St. Louis, 1904; traveled around the world, 1905-6, visiting the Philippines and the leading countries of the orient and Europe; addressed the delegates of the Interparliamentary Peace union in London, July 24, 1906; given gigantic reception on arrival in New York, Aug. 20, 1906; has been successful as a public lecturer and as an editor and publisher; was invited by President Roosevelt to the recent conference of governors on the conservation of our national resources.

with demonstrative evidence of approval. His concluding passage was a fervid tribute to the commoner, as the intrepid leader who had borne aloft the battle-scarred flag of Democracy through the campaigns of 1896 and 1900, with the devotion and faith of the crusaders of old days, "America's great commoner, Nebraska's gifted son, William J. Bryan."

This was the signal for a long continued uproar, rivaling in intensity and duration the demonstration of Wednesday, which lasted 1 hour and 26 minutes. Again the whole assemblage was lashed into a fury of excitement. The delegates seized the states' standards and gathered them on the presiding officer's platform, while the galleries broke into tumultuous clamor. The demonstration lasted upwards of 45 minutes. At times it assumed such proportions of madness as the excited throngs rushed through the aisles toward the platform that there was serious danger of panic. Men and women were howled over in the mad onrush of flag-bearing enthusiasts. One woman fainted and was carried from the hall.

The nomination of Governor Johnson of Minnesota precipitated another whirlwind of excitement, if not so long sustained, hardly less enthusiastic than for Bryan. The delegation from Minnesota, standing on their chairs and waving flags, handkerchiefs, hats and anything that could be waved, were the storm center of the demonstration, while groups of scattered delegates here and there lent their energies to those of Minnesota. The galleries, too, seemed to contain an ample supply of Johnson enthusiasm, and on every hand the waves of Johnson demonstration swept back and forth from end to end through the great building.

The Gray nomination also received its full share of enthusiastic approval, although the nominating speech of Irving L. Handy of Delaware was frequently interrupted by the impatient crowd, and finally by the arrival of the committee on resolutions.

It was after midnight when the nominating speeches were temporarily suspended to receive the report of the resolutions committee. Governor Haskell of Oklahoma, chairman of the committee, made the report, announcing at the outset that it was presented as the unanimous view of the committee, the entire membership of which ranged themselves on the platform, flanking Governor Haskell as an evidence of their united attitude. The enunciation of party principle was received with close attention and with frequent demonstrations of assent. The provision concerning injunctions was punctuated by applause, and at its conclusion a ringing cheer went up from delegates and spectators. The provisions concerning trusts, railway regulation, income tax and various other problems awakened lively approbation. The platform was adopted by a rousing unanimous vote.

Hocus Pocus and That Sort of Thing.
 I saw a Hindoo out in the open street take three good sized balls, larger and heavier than hens' eggs, and commence tossing them up in the air, catching them as they returned. Soon his hands were motionless, but the balls kept ascending and, so far as I know, are ascending still. They did not return. Were they dematerialized by some invisible psychic power? Such is my opinion. During my stay in Madras there came down from a mountain a genuine psychic and seer. He was truly a venerable mystic. In a bungalow on a bright sunny day, 3 o'clock p. m., a dozen present, this old yogi burned incense, repeated some mantras and said in substance, "Now I can move any object in this room by my will." Reflecting a few moments, I said, "Command those peacock plumes up there to come to you." Focusing his thought, his will, upon them, they leaped at his bidding from the case and, sailing around the room, fell at his feet. Other objects were moved in a similar manner. This was genuine white magic.—St. James' Gazette.

A Good Job.
 "The late Andrew McNally of our well known publishing firm once had occasion," said a Chicago lawyer, "to consult me about an infringing copyright. Mr. McNally said he thought there would be no trouble about correcting this infringement. The thing, he believed, had been innocently done. The man who had done it was an amateur in publishing—unsophisticated, like a girl his father used to tell about in Ireland."

"This girl was the daughter of a poor man, and every week or so she used to come to the village rectory with a pheasant or a hare to sell. The price she asked was low, and for a time the pastor bought of her. Then, somehow, his suspicions were aroused. The next time the girl called he said to her sternly:
 "It is good, fresh game you bring, my dear, and your price is always reasonable, but do you come by all these pheasants and hares honestly?"
 "Oh, shure, yes, your reverence," said the young girl. "My father is poacher to Lord Clare."

Small Bet Nobly Paid.
 Lord Falmouth—who bred horses, knew all about them and had had for trainer that paragon, John Scott—never bet but once. He had a promising filly, Queen Bertha, and she was the favorite for the Oaks in 1902. She had apparently fallen off in condition, and her owner put no confidence in her. Falmouth was inclined to scratch her, when Mrs. Scott, John Scott's wife, spoke up for her favorite. "I'll lay your lordship sixpence she wins," said Mrs. Scott, laughing. For once Lord Falmouth broke his rule never to bet and exclaimed, "Done, Mrs. Scott!" So Queen Bertha, with Tom Alderott up, appeared at the post and, thanks to the brilliant riding of her jockey, beat Marigold by a short head for the first place. Lord Falmouth paid his bet to Mrs. Scott in noble fashion. He procured a brand new sixpence from the bank, had it set round with diamonds and mounted as a brooch and in that form presented it to the comely mistress of Whitewall.

An Odd Place of Worship.
 Burma can show the oldest place of worship to be found anywhere in the world. Some miles out of Moulmein, in the middle of a great plain, stands a lone rock so peculiar in form as never to be forgotten after once seen. Ages ago the caves which honeycomb this fortress were transformed from the habitats of bats and wild animals into places of devotion. Thousands of images of Buddha are carved on the walls, and in every chamber bronze, stone or wooden gods are standing, sitting or reclining in endless silence. It is computed that many millions of feet have pressed the earthen floors of these sacred caverns.—Boston Transcript.

She Was Too Quick.
 She had buried three husbands, and the fourth lay cold while the undertaker measured him. She was known in the Kentish village to have put aside something more than husbands. "It isn't p'raps the right time to mention such a matter," said the undertaker to the widow, "but if you was thinking of taking a fifth"—
 "Now, that comes of being precipitous," replied the widow. "I've just took the barber what come to shave the corpse."

Reassured.
 Mistress—Did any one call while I was out?
 New Girl—Yes, mum; Mrs. Green called.
 "Did she seem disappointed when you said I was not at home?"
 "Well, she did look a little queer, but I told her she needn't get cross about it, 'cause it was really true this time."

Her Powers.
 Blank was accosted by a fellow citizen the other night, who said: "I heard your wife lecture. Her power of diction is wonderful."
 "Yes, fair. But it's nothing to her power of contradiction."

Important Factors.
 "The case had to be postponed again."
 "Weren't the lawyers ready?"
 "Yes, but the dressmakers demanded more time."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Bacteria Carried by Flies.
In some cases individual flies carry as high as 100,000 bacteria on their legs and in their mouths. The correspondence between the increase of flies and the increase of death tells its own story.

Difference in Medal's Cost.
A Frenchman, meeting an English soldier with a Waterloo medal, inadvertently sneeringly on the government for bestowing such a trifle, which, he declared, did not cost three francs. "That is true, to be sure," replied the hero, "it did not cost the English government quite three francs, but it cost the French a Napoleon."—New York Press.

Boy's Life Saved.
My little boy, four year old, had a severe attack of dysentery. We had two physicians; both of them gave him up. We then gave him Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured him and believe that saved his life.—William H. Stroling, Carbon Hill, Ala. There is no doubt but this remedy saves the lives of many children each year. Give it with castor oil according to the plain printed directions and a cure is certain. For sale by W. T. Brooks. You need no other guarantee. July

Dismal Professions.
The question was recently asked in a newspaper: "What is the most dismal of professions?" Among those that occurred to us as having a claim to be so considered were grave digging, scavenging, listening to congressional orations and the writing of poems—or articles—that nobody reads. The washing of dishes may be made interesting if done scientifically.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Would Have Saved Him $100.

"In 1902 I had a very severe attack of diarrhoea," says R. N. Farrer of Cat Island, La. "For several weeks I was unable to do anything. On March 18, 1907 I had a similar attack, and took Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which gave me prompt relief. I consider it one of the best medicines of its kind in the world, and had I used it in 1902 believe it would have saved me a hundred dollar doctor's bill." Sold by W. T. Brooks. You need no other guarantee. July

Inconsistency.
During one of Lady Battersea's addresses on prison life a lady in the audience mentioned that she had once lectured in Holloway. "What was the subject?" asked her ladyship. "I am afraid you will think it rather ironical," replied the lady, "but it was entitled 'Public Holidays, and How to Keep Them.'"—M. A. P.

It Reached the Spot.

Mr. E. Humphrhy, who owns a large general store at Omega, O., and is president of the Adams County Telephone Co., as well as of the Home Telephone Co., of Pike county, O., says of Dr. King's New Discovery: "It saved my life once. At least I think it did. It seemed to reach the spot—the very seat of my cough—when everything else failed." Dr. King's New Discovery not only reaches the cough spot; it heals the sore spots and the weak spots in throat, lungs and chest. Sold under guarantee at Oberdorfer's drug store. 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottle free. July

Enigmatical, But True.

Porson, the celebrated English Greek scholar, president of St. John's college in the University of Cambridge, took a ride every day on a big black horse. A stranger being shown the sights of the town asked, as he saw Porson riding down Jesus lane: "Who is that?" "St. John's head on a charger," answered the other with perfect truth.

Valued Same as Gold.

B. G. Stewart, a merchant of Cedar View, Miss., says: "I tell my customers when they buy a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills they get the worth of that much gold in weight, if afflicted with constipation, malaria or biliousness." Sold under guarantee at Oberdorfer's drug store. 25 cents. July

Novels at Night Time.

A writer in Queen says that after ten o'clock at night the mind is a sieve and it does not make any difference what we read so that the type is legible, and light novels are good night caps. A detective story at bedtime is to many people as good as a sleeping powder, switching the mind away from the worries of the day and soothing it preparatory to sleep.

Lucky Horseshoe.

People who affect not to believe in popular superstitions are recommended to study an episode in which a horseshoe figured at Burton. Horseshoes, of course, are lucky. This particular one was flung through the glass of the window of a railway compartment in which were seated seven passengers, but was not injured in the least.—London Globe.

Life's Sorrows.

Bob (to Bessie)—It seems rather strange, Bessie, that when I didn't want to kiss you you didn't mind, but now that you are old enough to make me want to, you won't let me.—Life.

one occupying it can afford to have his views upon public questions biased by personal ambition. Recognizing this responsibility to God and his obligation to his countrymen, he should enter on the discharge of his duties with singleness of purpose. Believing that one can best do this when he is not planning for a second term, I announce now, as I have on former occasions, that if elected I shall not be a candidate for re-election. This is a nomination as purely from the people as can be, and if elected my obligation will be as purely to the people. I appreciate the honor the more because it came not from one person or a few persons but from the rank and file acting freely and without compulsion.

"I am very much pleased with the platform. It is clear, specific and strong, and I am grateful to the convention for the work it has done in stating the issues. I am sure that the platform will greatly strengthen us in the fight we are entering."

JOHN W. KERN

Indiana Man Is Nominated for Vice President.

Denver, July 10.—At the final session Friday of the Democratic convention, Hon. John W. Kern of Indiana was nominated for vice president by acclamation. His name was presented to the convention by Delegate Marshall and was seconded by a host of delegates, including Governor Folk of Missouri, Charles A. Towne of New York, Clark Howell of Georgia and Archibald McNeill of Connecticut were also placed in nomination.

As the call of states proceeded it soon became evident that the Indiana man would land. The names of Towne, Howell and McNeill were withdrawn and Kern was nominated by acclamation.

GUFFEY

Suffers Defeat in the Contests From Pennsylvania.

Among the notable contests before the national convention were those from Pennsylvania, New York and Ohio. In the Pennsylvania contests the delegates of National Committee-man James M. Guffey were turned down by the credentials committee and this action was sustained by the convention, 615 to 397, the Guffey forces losing control of the Pennsylvania delegation. Mayor Tom L. Johnson won his case in the Nineteenth Ohio, but lost out in the Ninth. The Mayor also was defeated by Harvey Garber for member of the national committee from Ohio.

In the New York contests the convention and credentials committee disallowed the claims of Patrick McCarron of Brooklyn.

CLAYTON

Addresses Convention When Presented As Permanent Chairman.

In assuming the duties of permanent chairman of the Democratic convention, Henry D. Clayton of Alabama said:

The Republican party, having had full control of the federal government for more than a decade, must give an account of its stewardship. Its pretensions claims will not suffice. Let honest investigation reveal the bad and defective laws passed by that party; vicious policies maintained; reforms rejected; the recent panic and its consequences; promises broken; dissimulation practiced; incompetency confessed by its failures to meet urgent public needs, and exhibiting this incompetency by the appointment of junketing commissions for the alleged purpose of advising that party so long in control and of such boasted legislative wisdom that legislation is required by the country. Against the Republican party, so degenerate and crafty, is a capable, determined, honest Democracy, in sympathy with all just public demands and asking in its behalf the candid public judgment. To that judgment the issue must be committed, and we unhesitatingly submit our cause to that fine and true sense for the right we know distinguishes the American people.

In this quadrennial contest Mr. Roosevelt has identified himself with Mr. Taft. Mr. Taft has identified himself with Mr. Roosevelt. The Republican party has inseparably identified the two together. To praise one you must praise the other; to criticize one is to criticize his pursuing shadow.

What are the policies that constitute the capital of the Republican party in this campaign and that are relied upon to support the candidacy of Mr. Taft? To recall Democratic platforms, speeches and measures is to convince any man that many of the president's public utterances were derived from an avowed familiarity with the teachings of our party. His utterances that are Democratic have given him his only claim to be a reformer, and have contributed more than all else to the popularity he has enjoyed. The heir and the party are committed to "unflinching adherence to the policies of the president. What are those policies and what are the achievements of president and party? Mr. Clayton then reviewed unfavorably

JOHN W. KERN.

"If the love of country and liberty is still strong in the hearts of the American people; if an oath to support the constitution is now considered by them as binding; if the people are in earnest in their protests against the arrogant rule of insolent wealth, the unauthorized and baneful influence of corporations and the exactions of the trusts; if the manliness of the fathers has been transmitted to the sons, the 4th of next March will mark the advent of the gladsome light of Democracy and the beginning of the return to constitutional government honestly and economically administered."

CHAIRMAN BELL

Delivers the Keynote Address at the Opening Session.

Theodore A. Bell of California, in assuming his duties as temporary chairman of the national Democratic convention, sounded the party keynote as follows:

We have assembled at a time when the public conscience is demanding honesty of purpose in the men who undertake to direct the affairs of state. The public eye is keenly sensitive to every political movement, and our proceedings here will be approved according to the degree of sincerity appearing in the work of this convention. There is a widespread belief, founded upon evidence of convincing character, that the party in power has not been true to its trust; that it has betrayed the common interest into the hands of the enemies of good government, thereby forfeiting its right and destroying its ability to rule in the name of the people.

There are three things that this convention should do. It ought to present in a plain and intelligible manner the serious industrial and present conditions that are disturbing the peace and happiness of our country. We should then proceed to a courageous exposure of the Republican policies that are co-operating with private greed in the general oppression of the people. Most important of all, we must exhibit a readiness and an ability to grasp problems of the hour and to effect their solution in a manner that will satisfy the sober, common sense of the multitudes whose interests are at stake.

No rational man can be opposed to corporations as such and the assertion that the Democratic party is waging an indiscriminate war against this convenient form of transacting business has no foundation in fact. It is abuse only of corporate power that we seek to eliminate.

Viewed in the light of a great moral institution, the control of corporations should remain a question of common concern rather than a political one, but the shameful complacency of the Republican party in permitting its forces to be controlled and operated by the most offending corporations of the country throws the problem into the political arena and compels the public to choose between the Democratic party, that will, and the Republican party that will not, place some restrictions on incorporated greed.

Further endorsement to our law giving the federal government supervision over the issuance of railroad stocks and bonds is demanded.

The fixing of transportation charges and the control of issuances of railroad securities are inseparably connected with the actual valuation of railroads. The Democratic party believes that the first thing to do is to secure a physical valuation of the roads, that is a valuation of the solid rather than the liquid assets of railroad companies. While on the other hand the Republican party, on a roll call in the convention, by an overwhelming vote, took an unequivocal stand in favor of a system of water rates without giving the people the benefit of a meter.

The Democratic idea is that where the tariff enables the trusts to maintain a system of extortion the duty should be removed from all trust-made goods, so that competition from abroad may compel reasonable prices to our own people. There is a vast difference between the protection of American industries and the protection of criminal monopolies.

THE PLATFORM.

Declaration of Principles Adopted by National Democratic Convention.

The national Democratic convention adopted the following declaration of principles:

We, the representatives of the Democracy of the United States, in national convention assembled, reaffirm our belief in and pledge our loyalty to the principles of the party.

We rejoice at the increasing signs of an awakening throughout the country. The various investigations have traced graft and political corruption to the representatives of predatory wealth and laid bare the unscrupulous methods by which they have debauched elections and preyed upon a defenseless public through the subservient officials whom they have raised to place and power.

The conscience of the nation is now aroused to free the government from the grip of those who have made it a business asset of the favor-seeking corporations; it must become again a people's government, and be administered in all its departments according to the Jeffersonian maxim: "Equal rights to all, special privileges to none."

"Shall the people rule?" is the overshadowing issue which manifests itself in all the questions now under discussion.

Officeholders. Coincident with the enormous increase in expenditures is a like addition to the number of officeholders. During the past year 23,784 were added, costing $1,156,000, and in the past six years of the Republican administration the total number of new offices created, aside from many commissions, has been 93,319, entailing an additional expenditure of nearly $70,000,000, as against only 10,273 new offices created under the Cleveland and McKinley administrations, which involved an expenditure of only $6,000,000. We denounce this great and growing increase in the number of officeholders as not only unnecessary and wasteful, but also as clearly indicating a deliberate purpose on the part of the administration to keep the Republican party in power at public expense by thus increasing the number of its retainers and dependents. Such procedure we declare to be no less dangerous and corrupt than the open purchase of votes at the polls.

Economy in Administration. The Republican congress in the session just ended has made appropriations amounting to $1,008,000,000, exceeding the total expenditures of the past fiscal year by $90,000,000, and leaving a deficit of more than $60,000,000 for the fiscal year. We denounce the heedless waste of the people's money which has resulted in this appalling increase as a shameful violation of the prudent conditions of government. It is not surprising that, in the face of this shocking record, the Republican platform contains no reference to economical administration or promises thereof in the future. We demand that a stop be put to this frightful extravagance and first upon the strictest economy in every department complete with frugal and efficient administration.

Misuse of Patronage. We condemn, as a violation of the spirit of our institutions, the action of the present chief executive in using the patronage of his high office to secure the nomination of one of his cabinet officers. A forced succession in the presidency is scarcely less repugnant to public sentiment than the life tenure in that office. The right of the people to freely select their officials is inalienable and can not be delegated.

Home Rule. We assert our confidence in and admiration for the wisdom of the fathers in so organizing the federal government as to secure home rule to the people of each state; and we pledge ourselves to combat with unceasing vigilance the efforts of those who are striving by usurpation to seize the powers of the people of the states for exploitation by the federal government.

Tariff. We welcome the belated promise of tariff reform now affected by the Republican party in tardy recognition of the righteousness of the Democratic position on this question; but the people can not safely entrust the execution of this important work to a party which is so deeply obligated to the highly-protected interests as is the Republican party. We call attention to the significant fact that the promised relief was postponed until after the coming election—and election to succeed in which the Republican party must have that same support from the beneficiaries of the high protective tariff as it has always heretofore received from them; and to the further fact that during the years of uninterrupted power, no action whatever has been taken by the Republican congress to correct the admittedly existing tariff inequities.

We favor immediate revision of the tariff by the reduction of import duties. Articles entering into competition with restricted products should be placed upon the free list; and material reductions should be made in the tariff upon the necessities of life, especially upon articles competing with such American manufactures as are sold abroad more cheaply than at home, and graduate reductions should be made in such other schedules as may be necessary to restore the tariff to a revenue basis.

Trusts. A private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable. We therefore favor the vigorous enforcement of the criminal law against trust magnates and officials, and demand the enactment of such additional legislation as may be necessary to make it impossible for a private monopoly to exist in the United States. Among the additional remedies we specify three: first, a law preventing a duplication of directors among competing corporations; second, a license system which will, without abridging the right of each state to create corporations or its right to regulate as it will foreign corporations doing business within its limits, make necessary for a manufacturing or trading corporation engaged in interstate commerce to obtain a federal license before it can be allowed to control as much as 10 per cent of the product in which it deals, the license to protect the public from watered stock and to prohibit the control by such corporation of more than 50 per cent of the total amount of any product consumed in the United States, and a third law compelling such licensed corporations to sell to all purchasers in all parts of the country on the same terms, after making due allowance for cost of transportation.

Railroad Regulations. We assert the right of congress to exercise complete control over interstate commerce and the right of each state to exercise like control over commerce within its borders.

We demand such enlargement of the powers of the interstate commerce commission as may be necessary to compel railroads to perform their duties as common carriers and prevent discrimination and extortion.

We favor the efficient supervision and rate regulation of railroads engaged in interstate commerce, and to this end we recommend the valuation of railroads by the interstate commerce commission, such valuation to take into consideration the physical value of the property, the original cost of reproduction, and all elements of value that will render the valuation fair and just.

We favor such legislation as will prohibit the railroads from engaging in business which brings them into competition with the shippers; also legislation which will assure such strict regulation in transportation rates as conditions will permit, care being taken to avoid reductions that would compel a reduction of wages or do injustice to legitimate investments.

Banking. The panic of 1907, coming without any legitimate excuse, when the Republican party had for a decade been in complete control of the federal government, furnishes additional proof that it is either unwilling or incompetent to protect the interests of the general public. It has so linked the country to Wall street that the sins of the speculators are visited upon the whole people. It has used an emergency for which it is largely responsible to force through congress a measure changing the basis of bank currency and inviting market manipulation, and has failed to give to the 15,000,000 depositors of the country protection in their savings.

We believe that insofar as the needs of commerce require an emergency currency, such currency should be issued, controlled by the federal government and loaned on adequate security to national and state banks. We pledge ourselves to legislation under which the national banks shall be required to establish a guarantee fund for the prompt payment of the deposits of any insolvent national bank under an equitable system which shall be available to all state banking institutions wishing to use it.

We favor a postal savings bank if the guaranteed bank can not be secured, and that it be so constituted as to keep the deposited money in communities where it is established. But we condemn the policy of the Republican party in proposing postal savings banks under a plan of conduct by which they will aggregate the deposits of rural communities and redeposit the same while under government control in the banks of Wall street, thus depriving the circulating medium of the producing regions and unjustly favoring the speculative markets.

Income Tax. We favor an income tax as part of our revenue system, and we urge the submission of a constitutional amendment specifically authorizing congress to levy and collect a tax upon individual and corporate incomes to the end that we may bear its proportionate share of the burdens of the federal government.

Labor and Injunctions. Experience has proven the necessity of a modification of the present law relating to injunctions, and we reiterate the pledge of our national platforms of 1896 and 1904 in favor of the measure which passed the United States senate in 1895, but which a Republican congress has ever since refused to enact, relating to contempt in federal courts and providing for trial by jury in cases of indirect contempt.

Questions of judicial practice have arisen, especially in connection with industrial disputes. We deem that the parties to all judicial proceedings should be treated with rigid impartiality, and that injunctions should not be issued in any cases in which injunctions would not issue if no industrial disputes were involved.

We favor the eight-hour day on all government works.

We pledge the Democratic party to the enactment of a law by congress, as far as the federal jurisdiction extends, for a general employers' liability act covering injury to body or loss of life of employees.

Philippines. We condemn the experiment in imperialism as an inexcusable blunder which has involved us in an enormous expense, brought us weakness instead of strength, and laid our nation open to the charge of abandoning a fundamental doctrine of self-government. We favor an immediate declaration of the nation's purpose to recognize the independence of the Philippine Islands as soon as a stable government can be established, such independence to be guaranteed by us as we guarantee the independence of Cuba, until the neutralization of the islands can be secured by treaty with other powers.

In recognizing the independence of the Philippines, our government should retain such land as may be necessary for coaling stations or naval bases.

Telegraph and Telephone. We pledge the Democratic party to the enactment of a law to regulate the rates and service of telegraph and telephone companies engaged in the transmission of messages between the states under the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission.

Popular Election of Senators. We favor the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people and regard this reform as the gateway to other national reforms.

Asiatic Immigration. We favor full protection by both national and state governments within their respective spheres, of all foreigners residing in the United States under treaty, but we are opposed to the admission of Asiatic immigrants who can not be assimilated with our population, or whose presence among us would raise a race issue and involve us in diplomatic controversies with oriental powers.

Waterways. Water furnishes the cheapest means of transportation and the national government, having the control of navigable waters should improve them to their full capacity. We earnestly favor the immediate adoption of a liberal and comprehensive plan for improving every watercourse in the Union, which is justified by the needs of commerce, and to secure that end, we favor when practicable the connection of the great lakes with the navigable rivers and with the Gulf through the Mississippi river and the navigable rivers with each other, and the rivers, bays and sounds of our coast with each other by artificial canals with a view to perfecting a system of inland waterways to be navigated by vessels of standard draught.

Arizona and New Mexico. The national Democratic party has for the last 10 years labored for the admission of Arizona and New Mexico as separate states of the federal union, recognizing that each possesses every qualification to successfully maintain separate governments, we favor the immediate admission of these territories as separate states.

LIVE STOCK AND CROP NOTES

—Lee T. Beall, has sold for David Hume, of Paris, Mo., 65 acres of land on the Georgetown pike to Jos. Leach for $105 per acre.

—On the farm of John Wiggins, near Paris, a tenant has 13,000 hills planted to watermelons, the vines being thrifty and showing a prolific bloom, with hundreds of small melons now forming.

—J. E. Boardman, of Little Rock neighborhood, sold his crop of 500 bushels of wheat to E. F. Spears & Sons, of Paris, at 85 cents per bushel, and Jesse Booth received same price for 200 bushels of wheat.

—The best yield of wheat so far reported in Bourbon was grown by John Woodford in a field of 29 acres, which the year before had produced an excellent crop of tobacco and hemp, this week threshed out 441 sacks of grain which averaged two bushels to the sack. The quality of the grain was good.

—At the sale of jack stock held Friday by Nunnally & Co. at their farm near Lexington, twenty-two jacks were sold at prices ranging from $100 to $975, the top price being paid by J. M. Terry, of Cynthiana, for King of the Pyranese. The total amount brought by the jacks was $6,125, or an average of $225.

—James Smith, of Shakertown, has a bunch of hogs which ate a lot of dynamite and about fifty feet of fuse that he had put away in his barn to blow up stumps with. Mr. Smith is in a predicament as to what to do with the swine. He might sell them to a vaudeville show to be used in case of fire display. Yes, or if he wants to settle the question for all time he might feed them a box or two of matches to set the fuse off.

—The Kentucky State Berkshire Association will hold its semi-annual meeting at Louisville on Wednesday evening, Sept. 16, at the Willard Hotel, at 7:30 o'clock. Messrs. L. D. Magruder, of Goshen, J. Murrel Middleton, of Shelbyville, and Prof. E. S. Good, of State College, have been appointed a committee on programme. These names on this committee insure a good program. All Berkshire breeders of the State are requested to be present at this meeting.

—Since interest is increasing in alfalfa crops, the following experience of a Mercer county farmer may be of value. Mr. David L. Sims, of Bohon, says: "I bought one bushel of seed, paying $11.50 for it. I prepared my ground by a thorough breaking and harrowing and then sowed it in oats and immediately sown alfalfa. Both grew beautifully, the oats preventing any seed from starting in the ground. I cut the oats last season and now have cut a magnificent crop of alfalfa and will go two more this year. The yield was enormous. The cattle and horses will quit any other feed for the alfalfa, and, in addition, it is the finest food for chickens that can be given. The life of alfalfa is easily from thirty to forty years."

Crop of 1907 in Tact.

"Not a pound of the tobacco crop of 1907 pooled with the Burley Tobacco Society has yet been sold and none will be sold or offered for sale till it has been prized and put up in grades," said J. R. Bascom, of Sharpsburg, a member of the executive committee of the Burley Society Friday.

Mr. Bascom said that the pooled crop of 1907 had not yet been prized and put in hogsheads, and until this was done no price would be set on it. He stated that all the pooled tobacco of 1906 under the 18 cent grade has been sold. Of the 65,000,000 pounds 1906 pooled with the society, Mr. Bascom said all had been sold except about 12,000 pounds, and all of this graded at 18 to 27 cents a pound.

New Cottages.

Three new houses have been completed since the opening of Bourbon Heights, while in the new addition, Doyle's Annex, four new cottages are under construction, and a number of others in different parts of the city.

Killed His Cousin.

Bud Mullins shot and killed his cousin Booker Mullins, while engaged in a trivial quarrel near the former's home, about twenty miles from Jackson. Both are young men. The murderer afterwards armed himself with a shot gun and escaped to the woods where he is supposed to be in hiding.

Democratic Primary Nov. 11.

The Democratic County Committee of Bourbon met in the courthouse at 2 p. m. Friday and called a Primary Election for Wednesday, November 11, 1908, for the selection of candidates for county offices, to be voted for at the regular November election, 1909. The Committee was unanimously of the opinion that the primary should be held this fall and that the date be set late enough to give every aspirant plenty of time to canvass the county and present his claims before the people. Only four of the committee were absent. The meeting was presided over by Chairman James H. Thompson with Secretary Blanton Holt also present.

Chairman Thompson called for an expression of opinion from members of the committee, and after a lengthy discussion of political conditions in the county it seemed to be the unanimous sense of the members of the committee that if the primary was held this fall it would greatly facilitate the getting out of the vote in the Presidential contest, and be the means of carrying the county for Bryan by the largest majority ever given a Democratic candidate for President.

July 23rd is the Day.

If you want to hear one of the foremost orators of Kentucky don't fail to attend the big free picnic to be given by the Paris Commercial Club on Thursday, July 23. Col. John R. Allen, of Lexington, is on the program for an address on "Patriotism."

New Bill at Vaudeville Theatre.

The new bill at the Grand last night greatly pleased the audiences, and the vaudeville artists, on their opening appearance, established themselves as prime favorites with the patrons of this popular vaudeville house. There is not a weak feature in the program that is on for two remaining nights of its engagement.

Schrenker, a young man of more than unusual talent in the magician line, presented a neat act that is seldom seen on the vaudeville stage. He is a good talker, and with a continuous flow of wit kept the audience in a state of excitement while he performed some of the most mystifying feats in magic. We have yet to see a more gifted entertainer in this line.

Miss Nellie Lovely still sings the illustrated songs and her part of the program adds much to the enjoyment of the evening's entertainment.

The efforts of Dunston and Leslie in their clever sketch, entitled "The Italian and the Shoogirl," were well received and marks them as being a feature in this bill that cannot be surpassed. Taken as a whole the entertainment at the Grand is one of the best ever presented to the local theatre goers and is deserving of all the patronage that can be extended.

What is Meant by Loom Ends?
Where Do They Come From?
We Will Tell You.

Loom Ends are goods that fall short in length of the requirements for export purposes, but identical in quality with the first grades, yet still not to be classed with the regular goods, because they are wanting in length, or a slight imperfection in the weave, careless stitching in the underwear or a thread dropped in hosiery. These are Loom Ends. None of these slight flaws hurt the wear or the looks of the goods to the customer, but they prevent mills or factories from selling them at a profit. The enormous stock of Loom Ends we have purchased for this sale are all new goods, fresh from the looms, and are offered today at Loom cost. You will never know what Loom End Cost is if you fail to attend this sale, for the prices given are but an inkling of the money-saving opportunities offered. You pay two or three times the price for the same goods at other stores.
